Once Omar starts flying, he doesn't stop until he's explored the entire neighborhood, maybe even the whole city.

But people can't fly, you say? That's true, most people can't. But for Omar, this rule hasn't applied for a while now.

He's one of the lucky few who've seen a magical toy cave, met Çiko and Bisküvi, crossed paths with the queen of the Last Toy Cave, and discovered the incredible talents of legendary toy makers.

Perhaps he's the only one in the world who's experienced this, who knows? By now, you must be wondering how Omar found his way to the toy cave. All that and much more awaits you in this book...

"The birds said: "We have no king. Can a community exist without a ruler? Can a country exist without a sovereign? Then let us choose a king for ourselves."

Gathering together, the birds set out on a journey to see their king, Simurgh. But many hardships awaited them. In each valley, some were left behind—hunger, thirst, snow, storms, deserts, and predators took their toll. In the end, out of hundreds of thousands of birds, only thirty managed to cross all seven valleys and see their king. Cahit Zarifoğlu recounts this arduous journey in The Language of Birds.

JOURNEYS OF THOUGHT SERIES

In Journeys of Thought series, each book focuses on an important figure in the history of Islamic thought, but not in a classical biography. Instead, they adopt a style of narrating to the reader the thoughts, perspectives, interpretations and analyses that form the backbone of the life of the person who is also the main protagonist of the book. In this way, it aims to create an emotional intimacy with the founding fathers of the history of Islamic thought, going beyond the transmission of historical information or encyclopaedic data.

FOCUSING, PLAYING, ATTENTION, AWARENESS

Cars, submarines, birds, fish, colorful dinosaurs, playful elephants... and so much more! They're all hidden within the pages of this book, waiting for you to find them.

All you need to do is to look closely. So go ahead, pay attention, explore, and uncover the hidden pictures!

Look Carefully promises a fun and engaging adventure for curious eyes.

CURIOUS QUESTIONS, FUN ANSWERS

Caught in a storm of questions at the grocery store, while driving, or during a hospital visit? “Where do ants live? Do penguins feel cold? Can we talk to animals?” These curious inquiries often leave us unsure of how to respond. But children’s questions are windows to their growing minds, an opportunity to encourage curiosity and learning.

Every question they ask opens that window a little wider. And when they get an answer or discover it on their own, real learning happens, creating new connections in their brains.

EFE EXPLORES THE JOBS

Efe is a curious little boy who loves listening to the books his mother reads to him. One of his favorites is about different jobs.

As his mother reads, Efe imagines himself as all sorts of things—sometimes a brave firefighter, sometimes a ship captain, sometimes a caring doctor, sometimes an artist with a paintbrush, and sometimes even a teacher.

Do you like mazes? Those twisting, turning paths where you have to find your way out? In this book, you'll navigate through mazes that lead to a flower garden, a farm, or even help reunite a baby with its mother.

Explore mazes in trees, underground, underwater, in the sky, and even in the polar regions because mazes are everywhere! But we can't do it without you. Come on, let's solve these fun mazes together!
